WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1896.
BRYAN is stamping Ohio and yesterday was in McKinley's own county.
If Mr. Hall will just haul that boat out the creek in a hurry Uncle Sam will never say a word.
To Eau Claire Democrats: Do not take revenge on Secretary Paul. His little "boycott" has been a good advertisement for THE EVENING NEWS.
When Mayor Bell appointed Dr. H. V. Tutton health officer he made no mistake. Surrounded on every side as the city is by contagious diseases all forms of contagion have been driven from the city. The position of health officer is the most important of all in a city.
MANAGER Hanna, in a fit of generosity, said that Bryan would probably get 61 electoral votes. Manager Jones took a look at his hand and "raised" the republican manager by declaring that McKinley would get 81 votes. Both of these genial gentlemen are correct.
When free silver wins, if it ever does, it will be hard on the boards of education who furnish text books for the scholars. The old arithmetics will be thrown away and new ones will be substituted which, according to the republican argument, will declare: "Ten mills make one cent, ten cents one dime, five dimes one dollar."
A Newspaper Curiosity.
Thomas Smith, Jr., who keeps a second-hand furniture store at 220 Center street, has in his possession an old newspaper which is a real curiosity. It is 136 years old and contains the first news ever printed in a newspaper. He bought it at the receiver's sale of the estate of Joseph Low Mason, who was once a police commissioner. This curiosity is inclosed in an unassuming frame and covered by glass on both sides, so as to permit its being read without handling. The heading is: "Boston Gazette and Country Journal, Monday, March 12, 1770."
Of the two leading articles one treats of the Boston riots, and the other is an appeal to all patriotic citizens to withhold from purchasing goods of English manufacture. The former is illustrated with five readily drawn coffins, which are supposed to contain the bodies of the first five heroes of American independence.
The paper is extremely valuable as a relic, and it is said that the heirs of Mr. Mason have offered to buy it for a large sum, but Smith refuses to part with it.—New York Tribune.
To Clean Soiled Blotter.
Ink stains may be removed from a blotter by applying with a camel's hair pencil a small quantity of oxalic acid diluted with water and then using blotting paper. Two applications will remove all traces of the ink. To remove grease spots, lay powdered pumice on each side of the spot and press with an iron wire. Sometimes grease spots may be removed from paper or cloth by laying a piece of blotting paper on them and then pressing the blotting paper with a hot iron. The heat melts the grease and the blotting paper absorbs it.—Writer.
To make the hair grow a natural color, prevent baldness, and keep the scalp healthy, Hall's Hair Renewer was invented, and has proved itself successful.
Harry L. Bird says that he has all the best of the two cities using his Extract of Gills and he knows what he is talking about. Bird's preparations are always right.
Sterling and Brennan's orchestra is prepared to furnish music for all occasions. Balls, parties and socials at reasonable rates. Inquire 101 Oak street, Benton Harbor.
The City Steam laundry does more work than all other laundries in Berrien county combined. It is the work that has built up the trade.
Buy all your candies this winter of Harry L. Bird. His candies are as good as his soda water. Bird always keeps the best.
Who will be the lucky one to guess the number on the baby puzzle at Poundstone's.
The C. C. & St. L. R'y (Big Four Route) will, on November 12 and 13, sell iron clad round trip excursion tickets limited to continuous passage each way, final return limit, November 10, to St. Louis, Mo., at one fare for the round trip, account of the national W. C. T. U. convention. 326
Do you believe it? Yes I do. That Hollis & Son, the jewelers, are selling a year's 20 year warranted Bows Gold filled hunting case and a fine 15 jewel Elgin movements for $18.50. Ladies, also same as above $15.25. All other goods at same reduced rates. We are bound to lead, let others follow. A Market with every purchase on an 8 time music box. Fine watch works a specialty. WHAT IS HE?
You Could Not Call This Man an Anarchist—Anarchism is Better.
Here is a prominent goldbug advocate of Chicago who, over his own name, practically urges the assassination of Mr. Bryan in case he is elected. Listen to him:
"Two grand presidents of this republic have been assassinated by cranks, for fancied grievances only. If Bryan shall be elected and the country be thrown into dire confusion and distress, which will surely follow, throwing some millions more of our honest people out of work and intensifying the grievances already festering among the unemployed, will not the disappointments and distress of the unthinking masses who will vote for him, and for that, engendered by faith in Popocratic promises so soon broken, create such a revolution that he will never be inaugurated? Will the bitten not bite?—D. K. Tenney in the Chicago Record.
Mr. Tenney is a corporation lawyer. If Mr. Bryan is assassinated it will be well to watch Mr. Tenney.
The complacent insolence of the gold rammers of New York city was never better shown than when they selected Perry Belmont as chairman of the Bourke Cockran "honest money" meeting at Madison Square garden. Belmont was one of the leading beneficiaries of the bond steals. A fine man to appeal for "honest money!" Here are the headlines from the New York World of Feb. 21, 1895, at which time that paper was fighting the gold ring instead of defending it:
TESTIMONY OF MILLIONS AND BUNCOED OUT OF MILLIONS

Loss to United States to jobbers.....$413,500
Perry Belmont's share of this plunder was more than $2,000,000. Part of it he expended on a new steam yacht. You are paying for it.
Our marvelous inventions have been monopolized so that, in spite of the daily miracles of our machinery the hungry still lack food and the homeless wander through the streets. Step by step the moneyless man is losing his right to exist. Every recent change in legislation has been made to protect property and to disfranchise men. Armories are erected and schoolhouses forgotten. Immense grants of land are bestowed upon railroads, but the settler upon the prairie is evicted. Trades union leaders are imprisoned for having contempt for a contemptible judge, while monopolists are aided by injunctions and federal troops. Today Shakespeare has been revised and Shylock is the hero of the play. The nation's plea for mercy is called revolutionary and treasonous and branded as a repudiator.—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.
America is the workman's "Paradise Lost," and it can never be regained by passive obedience to the serpent. Our carpenters build magnificent mansions and live in rented tenements. Our mechanics construct electric lights and use kerosene at home; they manufacture pianos and do not own a tin whistle; they build carriages and go afoot. Our miners dig gold and live in poverty; they die in dangerous coal mines and lack fuel in the winter. Our farmers raise grain and want for food, export cotton and wool and lack clothing, sell cattle and are without meat.—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.
It is better that we should, if necessary, buy gold a premium to settle our foreign business with than that the American people should be compelled to pay higher prices in human labor and human endeavor for a dollar because of the adoption of the single gold standard. If the United States opens the ports to the manufacture of cheap labor abroad and submits to the dictation of the gold men of Europe, find pity the laborers, mechanics and producers of America.—Senator John M. Thurston, July, 1894, before the United States Pacific whippled him into line for gold.
Go to your bank and see if you can get a check cashed in gold. Ask any merchant in town to exchange silver, greenbacks, bank notes, or any other form of money for gold. Obtain a $10 gold piece from any source you can. This is what is known as the gold standard. What do you suppose will happen when our silver money and greenbacks are retired, as they will be, if Mr. McKinley is elected?
Free silver would raise the prices of the farmer's products and make it impossible for anybody to buy them.—Chicago Tribune, Aug. 25, 1896.
Those who know that national prosperity depends on the prosperity of the farmer are willing to take a chance with wheat at $1 a bushel.
We have opposed to us every man who has attempted to destroy labor organizations; we have with us those who have aided labor to better its condition.—W. J. Bryan.
When did the millionaires and money changers of New York become the champions of labor and higher wages?—Chattanooga News.
More compensation for the producer, less for the broker is the cry of the campaign.—Denver Times.

Liberty and plutocracy are incompatible. If the few may control the means of livelihood of the many there can be no liberty. It is only necessary to look about us today and note the devices adopted for coercion of the people into support of Mark Hanna and his puppet to estimate how slender a shred of liberty the encroachments of plutocracy have left to the people. "Vote for Hanna," cry some to their employees, "or see wages cut and your positions forfeited." "Vote for, our ticket," cry others, "or expect such a calling in of loans by our banks and trust companies that you will be ruined and your property put under the hammer." "Vote for us," cry others, "or we will build you no more elevated railroads, we will charge you more to carry your wheat and cotton to market, we will repudiate your insurance policies, we will even deny you a livelihood. Vote for our man or we brand you as anarchist and communist, and declare you should be shot down."—New York Journal.
A financial system that commands itself to the wealthy only is a curse to the land.—W. J. Bryan.
Bryan is caricatured, just as Lincoln was, as a highwayman, as a pirate, even as the devil, and in many similar ways. Whether Bryan's political views are entirely correct or not, who can deny that he is a citizen of whom any nation in the world might boast? Whether we consider the sustained ability of his addresses, his gentlemanly endurance of slander and misrepresentation, his unswerving pursuit of his principles, or the magnanimity of his unaffected cordiality to the worst-stained masses that greet him at every depot, we can not avoid admiring him as a sturdy specimen of our American manhood. Compare him with the haggard individual who trembles in his mortgaged house, lest Hanna may foreclose. Compare him with that unfortunate Napoleon who has already met his Wellington and surrendered his convictions, and it is plain to see which best represents the principles of the Declaration of Independence.—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.
"Gold Tilters."
If the government has been paying gold interest, it had that right by original agreement, and it may hereafter pay silver interest by the same right. The option is in the government, and it has never been surrendered and never will be. How often must this be repeated before the goldites will consent to accept the fact? We have had enough Shylock talk about "public credit," "good faith," "honor," "understandings," "expectations," and "suppositions." The surest way to kill "public credit, good faith and honor" is to smash down the price of property, paralyze business, pauperize labor, bankrupt enterprise, and drive the people into poverty and despair, and that is precisely the policy the gold rammers are pursuing.—Chicago Tribune, Jan. 16, 1878.
Wendell Phillips' View.
I believe in the people, in universal enfranchisement, as fitted to secure the best results human nature leaves possible. If corruption seems rolling over us like a flood, it is not the corruption of the humbler classes; it is the millions who steal banks, mills and railways, who defraud the poor, who take and make away with millions; it is money kings who buy up congress; it is the demagogues and editors in purple and fine linen who bid $50,000 for the presidency itself.—Wendell Phillips.
It is Different Now.
When tariff was the main issue no name was too bad for England, no name too good for Ireland. Now things are different. It will not do to say anything against England. On the contrary, she is a most progressive nation, blessed with noble, generous and able statesmen. The republican party loves her, even if the love is not returned. Each worships a common object—gold.
The real anarchist is he who seeks to violate the laws of nature for the exclusive benefit of a small fraction of the community.
During the present campaign the epithet "Anarchist" has been hurled at the heads of the noblest and most capable men that this generation has produced. The fierce searchlight of publicity has blazed upon these men for years, and not a single corrupt official act has ever been discovered.—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.
This law-breaking, aggressive spirit of monopoly has found a perfect embodiment in the person of Mark Hanna. He today towers above McKinley and above the Republican party, the American blue-blood who plays his workers instead of his wives.
The skeletons of the Seamen's union, the Miners' union and the Street Car Men's union hang bleeding in his closet.—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.
What is the use of opening the mills unless you first make the people able to buy what the mills produce?—W. J. Bryan.
The Public Ledger (gold standard paper of Philadelphia) in its leading editorial of July 14, 1894, page 8, column 1, said: "It is obvious that with this privilege (free coinage) extended to silver our corresponding could not go into the market and buy 41 1/2 grains for much less than $1."
Are you aware of the fact that the United States treasury will not exchange gold for silver?
Are you aware of the fact that the continuance of the gold standard means the speedy debasement and extinction of value of every silver dollar now in circulation?
"This is not a Republican convention. This is a convention of corporation lawyers. This is a convention of bank presidents. This is a pawn brokers' convention."—Senator Dubois to the St. Louis Republican convention.
Under the reign of silver at 16 to 1 a farm or a house and lot now worth $10,000 will be worth $20,000, a bushel of wheat now selling for 50 cents will sell for $1.—Chicago Tribune argument against free silver.
Bryan, Brain and Brawn vs. Boodle, Banks and Bonds.—North Alabamian.

The Oldest And the Best
"In the Fall of '03, my son, R. B. ROUZE, had a huge carbuncle on his neck. The doctor lanced it, but gave him no permanent benefit."
AYER'S Sarsaparilla
was then resorted to, and the result was all we could have wished for. The carbuncle healed quickly, and his health is now perfect."
—H. S. ROUZE, Champlain, Va.
The Only Sarsaparilla At World's Fair.

Rome Was Not Built in a Day

Neither was our present business, but months of hard persistent hammering, and a desire to please at any cost has accomplished much.

The best advertisement we have is the continued growth of our business, and our introduction of new things in the market.

For this week we desire to call the ladies' attention to a new style of corset

The Cresco..

Which cannot break at the waist line.

We desire that all the ladies call and examine this, the latest, in corsets.

Also remember we are sole agents for the following makes of Corsets and Corset Waists.

Cresco, W. C. C., R. & G.,
Flexibone Moulded and the Ferris and Imperial Corset
Waists.

Notice.

THE producers of Anthracite Coal seem to have adopted the theory that their product is something you must have and have placed a cold weather price on their commodity in midsummer. We are now receiving our stock of Anthracite from the Wilkesbarre region, the best in the market and sell it at current prices. No chrome are given away with this coal, neither do we make any extravagant promises as to the latent energy (heat) which it contains. We simply offer it on a business basis. If, as the big guns in the business assume, hard coal is something you must have regardless of price, we are ready and even anxious to supply you. As the amusement man in the circus would say, "We are here for that purpose."

DEMOCRATIC PEOPLE'S UNION SILVER PARTY COLUMN.

PLATFORM

We demand the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid and consent of any other nation. We demand that the standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender, equally with gold, for all debts, public and private, and we favor such legislation as will prevent the demonetization of any kind of legal tender money by private contract.

AGAIN SEEKS SHELTER

The Glenn, of South Haven, Driven Into Port Here.

The steamer Glenn, of South Haven, again entered this port this morning to get in shelter from the heavy sea. The Glenn ran in here Monday night on her way to Chicago on account of the prospects of rough weather, and departed yesterday morning. The wind arose during the night and whipped the lake into a rather frolicsome state, and the Glenn on her return trip from Chicago again deemed it prudent to enter here and remain until an abatement in the storm made it safe to continue the voyage.

The City of Milwaukee arrived in port this morning, finishing her season's work for the Graham & Morton transportation company. She has carried in the aggregate an immense quantity of freight, this season being the most successful in the history of the vessel. She will be delivered to her owners at once.

The City of Louisville will continue on the Chicago-St. Joseph route, making tri-weekly trips, leaving St. Joseph Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 10 o'clock p. m. It is promised that she will run on this schedule during the entire winter.

The steamer Frank Woods will continue on the Milwaukee route.

LOG CABIN CLUB.

Met Last Evening at Mrs. Dickinson's.

The Log Cabin club held a very pleasant meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. L. W. Dickinson on Niles avenue. The usual routine of entertainment was carried out after which refreshments were served. The hostess is a charming entertainer. The Log Cabin club is one of the most popular social clubs in the city and its membership roll includes a large number of our most polished society people.

MR. GARDNER'S LECTURE.

Preparations Being Made by the Children's Home Board.

The ladies of the children's home board will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Nix, on Front street, to prepare for the appearance of Hon. Washington Gardner in this city November 13. The meeting will be called to order at 2:30 o'clock sharp, and all members are requested to be present at that hour. The members of the Benton Harbor board will also be present.

CITY COUNCIL.

Held a Short Session at the City Hall Last Night.

The city council held a brief session at the city hall last night.

The liquor bond of Riley & McClurg, with George Herman and Frank Morelock as sureties, was accepted.

The clerk of the water board was allowed a salary of $20 monthly upon the recommendation of the board of public works.

William F. Freitag and William Erick were appointed election inspectors and John Duncan, L. J. Merchant and Dr. Stratton were appointed election commissioners.

A TROUBLESOME GOAT.

Creates A Disturbance in the Forbes Block

An inoffensive looking goat stood tied in front of the Forbes block on State street this morning. He stood there until he grew restless and a spirit of adventure took possession of his soul. So he broke the rope that tied him to the hitching post and walked deliberately up stairs and into the dressmaking parlors of Miss Annie Olson, where he spread terror and confusion. Then he went into Jim O'Hara's law office and talked politics for a while, after which he strolled into Dr. Wilson's office and batted the furniture all over the room. The tenants finally all got together and forced their unwelcome visitor down stairs.

YOUR FAVORITE.

You Will Have A Chance to Name Him Tonight.

Tonight, in the building opposite the post office, the Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church will give a campaign supper. A supper ticket will cost 20 cents and with it will be given a ticket with the name of a presidential candidate which the holder will deposit in the ballot box. There will be three tickets, McKinley, Bryan and Palmer and the voter is given his choice.

An elaborate menu will be served. The proceeds of the supper will be used to place electric lights in the church.

A PLEASANT EVENT.

Was the Y. M. C. L. Benefit Last Evening.

The Y. M. C. L. benefit at the Congregational church last night was well attended and was a very enjoyable affair. The program was a varied one and embraced some of the best talent in the city.

The program was presented as follows: Invocation, Rev. Thos. McRoberts; organ voluntary, Miss Winchester; song, Miss Helen Webb, Chicago; recitation, Miss Ida Edison; vocal, Miss A. A. Canavan; duet, by June Bradford and Florence Brown; reading, Miss Mable Bratton; selection, Y. M. C. L. Quartette; recitation, Miss Stella Davis; vocal solo, Mrs. Louis Schulz; recitation, Miss Edison; solo, William B. Church; remarks, Dr. Schwendener.

A RECEPTION.

Will Be Tendered Rev. James Hamilton This Evening.

The Ladies' Aid society and the Epworth League, of the Methodist church, will give an informal reception to Rev. James Hamilton, the new pastor, in the parlors of the church this evening. All are most cordially invited to attend and meet the new pastor and his family.

The reception will not in any way interfere with the supper arranged for this evening by the ladies of the Congregational church as those who wish to attend the reception may do so after the supper is over.

TURN OUT TOMORROW NIGHT.

There Will Be Another Big Republican Demonstration.

One of the most gifted orators to appear in St. Joseph for the discussion of campaign questions is W. W. Wedemeyer, of Ann Arbor. He will speak in the Academy of Music tomorrow evening in the interests of the gold standard.

Mr. Wedemeyer has spoken in Buchanan and other nearby points during this campaign and those who heard him were delighted with his eloquence and his clear and logical explanation of the financial problem. He is an exceptionally well posted man and his speech will benefit those who desire information concerning the issue between the two great political organizations.

A big street demonstration will be arranged. The McKinley and Hobart marching club will appear in a torch light parade, and it is planned to leave the torches at the Academy, saving the inconvenience of returning to the club rooms after the parade. Seats will be reserved for the marching club. The seating capacity of the hall will be increased to accommodate an immense audience, and it is hoped that it will not be necessary to turn any away.

AN OPERA.

Will Probably Be Given at the Academy Soon.

Miss Marsh, of the Academy of Music, is thinking seriously of putting an opera on the boards during the holiday week. The opera will be sung by local talent entirely. The piece to be selected will be one of the finest ever produced in the city and the proceeds will go to some church or benevolent organization.

St. Joseph is full of singers who have taken part in successful entertainments in the past. Among the solo singers are Mrs. Kate M. B. Wilson, Miss Cora King, Miss Sadie Martin, Mrs. Louis S. Schulz, R. Gates Rice, William B. Church, William H. Hull, Edward S. Kelley, George P. McIlhenny, John W. Fletcher, Millard B. Rice, Miss Mable Carlton, Miss Bertha Caruham, and others.

Among the chorus singers may be named Edward S. Curran, Frank L. Pixley, Sam Zekind, A. L. Church, Ralph W. Ransom, Thomas J. Gibbons, Nelson C. Rice, Arthur Brown, Theodore Rahm, C. A. Wilkinson, Robert Rahm, Joseph Hauser, Miss Grace Sullivan, Mrs. W. H. Hall, Miss Carrie Brooks, Edith Cadwell, Miss Alice Conant and many others.

Providing the opera is arranged, the talented comedian and singer, Eddie Foy Curran, will sing the comic role. Several productions have been put on here with good results and the above named people have carried them through successfully. The opera to be sung this winter will be of the comic order. Pinafore was sung last winter and made a great hit.

MICHIGAN NEWS.

Brief Dispatches of Important Incidents of a Day.

McBAIN, Oct. 21—O. O. Dunham was assaulted and nearly beaten Sunday evening by a gang of hooligans, to whom he, as a merchant, had refused credit. The gang had attempted to get even by tearing down the fence in front of the Dunham residence on a prominent corner. Mr. Dunham may lose one of his eyes as a result of the assault.

Cured His Rheumatism.

MUSKOGEE, Oct. 21—Wesley Shattuck, 32 years of age, was found dead in his bed at 28 Hall street, he having taken a dose of poison some time yesterday. He left a note saying he could no longer bear his pains of rheumatism. His wife left him 10 days ago.

Lawyer Mobbed.

HOLLY, Oct. 21—A political out rage that occurred here Saturday night has been the cause of considerable indignation. Lawyer Charles Collier was mobbed by an angry crowd and roughly handled. A sheet of canvas on which to project stereoscopic views of a political character has been stretched in front of Mr. Collier's building without his consent. Mr. Collier interfered with the exhibition of the pictures and received in return treatment that compelled him to place himself under the care of a physician.

Piccadilly.

Perhaps there is among the great capitals of civilization no more celebrated, no more beautiful street than Piccadilly. The origin of its name is still disputed, although the interpretation given by the Hon. E. Byng, once universally known as "Poodle" Byng, on account of the curliness of his hair, will serve as well as any other.

He held that, rather more than two centuries ago, it was Charles II's habit, when he took his morning's walk in the Green park, to buy some cakes or turnovers from an old woman with whom he exchanged many a merry jest, and who kept her booth on a spot opposite to the present site of Apsley House. These cakes were called "pickadills," and from this circumstance the fashionable western artery of London was supposed by "Poodle" Byng to have taken its name.

"Poodle" Byng's ashes repose in St. James' church, which Sir Christopher Wren regarded as one of his most successful structures, not far from the grave of that celebrated roger and voluptuary, the last Duke of Queensberry, better known as "Old Q." or the "Star of Piccadilly," whose dishonored bones repose beneath the communion table.—London Telegraph.

Preservation of Bouquets.

A florist of many years' experience gives the following recipe for preserving bouquets: When you receive a bouquet, sprinkle it lightly with fresh water; then put it into a vessel containing some soup, which nourish the roots and keep the flowers as bright as new. Take the bouquet out of the soup every morning and lay it sideways in fresh water. Keep it there a minute or two; then take the flowers out and sprinkle it lightly by the hand with pure water. Replace the bouquet in the soup, and the flowers will bloom as fresh as when first gathered. The soup needs to be changed every third day. By observing these rules a bouquet can be kept bright and beautiful for at least one month and will last still longer in a very passable state, but the attention to the fair and frail creatures, as directed above, must be strictly observed.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Hot or Cold Water.

In a paper read before a medical association recently a prominent physician says, concerning the use of hot and cold water, that while the majority have concluded that hot water is better for bathing the eyes there are cases where cold is required and that the patient should decide for himself, giving the preference to that which the more quickly relieves the pain and leaves no bad effects. Hot water is generally considered to be far better than cold for bruises. Water which is not too cold drunk in quantities is one of the best means of producing the perspiration necessary for curing a heavy cold. It is said that a bowl of water stood at the side of the bed will often cure troubled sleep as well as insomnia. It is an admirable method of purifying the atmosphere of a room which has become foul with tobacco smoke.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Chinese Cologne.

The Chinese ladies have an old kind of cologne—that is to say, they constantly have upon their person a small bag of sweet smelling gum similar to that which was used by the ancient Egyptian women. Numerous costly jars recently unearthed at Pyramids contain the cosmetic and perfume which were used by Egyptian princesses, all of which bear a resemblance to those in vogue today among Chinese ladies of the highest rank.

Abraham Lincoln made a good president but Harry L. Bird makes the best pharmaceutical preparations. Have your prescriptions filled there.

The Phoenix Hotel.

A great many people go there simply for the reason that they employ nothing but experienced women cooks, and what you eat is clean and reliable. The best of meats, fresh from the market, three times daily. Pastry cannot be excelled anywhere in the city. Rates for the winter, 25c per meal or 21 meals for $3.25, while in the lunch room you can procure anything you like in the way of short orders. Oysters a specialty.

Pure

Blood is essential to perfect health. This is a scientific fact. Every organ, nerve and muscle must be fed and nourished. It is the function of the blood to furnish this nourishment, and the quality of nourishment these organs receive depends on the quality of the blood. If the blood is

Rich

Pure and full of vitality it will properly feed and support the whole mechanism of the body. If it is poor and thin disease and suffering will be inevitable. The great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in curing stubborn cases of scrofula, eczema, rheumatism, neuralgia and many other similar troubles, is based upon its power to enrich and purify the Blood!

This is also the reason for the great popularity of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a building up medicine. By making pure, rich blood, it gives vigor and vitality even in trying seasons, when, owing to impoverished blood, thousands are complaining of weakness and weariness, lack of energy and ambition, and that tired feeling.

HARRY Watkins has his new residence on Baird street nearly complete. Mrs. J. M. Allmendinger will close her sale in the Bowman block after this evening.

THE Royal Neighbors will give a social this evening in the Modern Woodman hall.

AND they tell us that the falling leaves are the color of the gold standard this year.

THE Ladies' Aid of the Universalist church will meet with Mrs. Bayless Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

PUTERBAUGH & Rapp are holding their annual cloak opening today. W. L. Campbell has charge of the cloak display.

THE big sound money democratic rally will be held in this city on the evening of October 30. The meeting will be addressed by some of the best orators of the day.

HON. H. L. BLISS, author of "Coin's Financial Fraud" will speak in Cony's hall tomorrow night. Mr. Bliss is a sound money democrat and an unusually bright man.

THE case of Herman Nock vs August Baushke is being heard in Judge Cady's court this afternoon. Wells Hildorf is appearing for the plaintiff and Charles N. Sears for the defendant.

THE Kalamazoo papers are wasting a good deal of space quarreling over their circulation. The News now offers a bet $100 in gold that it has a larger circulation than the Telegraph.

THE business office and composing room of THE EVENING NEWS was moved to the first floor of the new building last night. The temporary business office of the paper can be found in the rear room of the ground floor.

THE three-year-old child of a family named Rose living on Vineyard avenue died this morning. The family are in destitute circumstances and Mrs. Ida Edgumbe is circulating a subscription paper on behalf of the Epworth league for the family.

ROUNDS & Warner today sold the W. S. Hallman property of fifteen acres on Colfax avenue to C. B. Holmes of Chicago for $10,000. Mr. Holmes will move here. This is one of the finest fruit farms in this city. Mr. Holmes was so taken with the property that he did not look at any other place.

THE Home Circle will meet with Mrs. Barker Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the following program: Call call, facts relating to Homer; Creion history, "The Heroic and Homeric age"; Mrs. I. Sherwood; music, violin and piano, Mesdames Eastman and Morley; Group of Eminent French Women; Mrs. Eastman; poem, selected, Mrs. Soule.

It Was True.

Late in the evening a report spread through the train that we had a fellow passenger, a man worth $20,000,000, who had gotten on at Buffalo. I made inquiry of the porter of my car, and he replied:

"Dat's what day say, sah, but yo' can't allus tell. He's in de next car, but I can't dun say if he's rich till mawnin'."

Next morning the porter beckoned me into the smoking compartment and said:

"Dat story was all true, sah."

"Then he's worth $20,000,000, eh?"

"All of dat, sah, an' mo' mo'."

"How did you find out?"

"From dooider po'tah, sah. Degen-an has jest gin him 10 cents, while everybody else has cum down wid a quarter."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Pepper Berries.

When the berries on a spike of the pepper plant begin to turn red, the spike is cut off and the berries gathered. If left too long, until perfect ripeness is attained, there is a great loss occasioned by the berries falling off, and the quality of the product is by no means so good.

TAME OCEAN FISHES.

WHALES AND PORPOISES ARE SOMETIMES PAINTFULLY SOCIABLE.

Good Natured Bob, an Acquaintance on the Florida Coast—Some Interesting Experiences With Whales in the Pacific Ocean.

Travelers up and down the coast of Florida will remember a certain porpoise that for years, and up to 1881 in the remembrance of the writer, paraded up and down a quarter section of the Florida peninsula. He was known as Bob, and though he rarely answered to his name he was well known to all sailors in those parts. Bob was recognized by a peculiar cut in his dorsal fin, giving it the appearance of having a window in it. Some thoughtless passenger, wishing to practice on all animate nature with his revolver, had inflicted this injury, and the porpoise apparently was very proud of it. In any event, it was exhibited at every opportunity to the occupants of passing vessels. It would come near the vessel, follow it at times or gambol about the bow or stern, but its chief position was about 100 yards away, within good rifle shot, where it would swim along parallel with the course of the vessel, a tempting target to marksmen. So in the course of time Bob's back became scarred and scarred, and if current report was valued at anything he carried in his blubber not a few ounces of lead—forcible reminders of his porpoises as well as sailors have rights that are respected on the Florida coast.

In the Pacific some whales are very friendly, especially off the coast of Los Angeles county, Cal., where on more than one occasion they have astonished if not alarmed sailing parties who have been becalmed. These whales, it should be said, are perfectly harmless, and their attentions are merely from curiosity, but to have several of these huge creatures from 40 to 60 feet long floating about in close proximity is not altogether pleasant. What is supposed to be the same whale has earned a reputation for friendliness, and during the summer months it frequently seems to meet a large steamer that plies off shore, and either follows it along or plays about, entertaining the passengers by spouting. On one trip the whale placed itself ahead of the steamer and swam with it so deliberately that the captain was obliged to slow down and finally stop, fearing to run into the huge creature.

Perhaps the most remarkable instance of friendliness on the part of whales was experienced by the owner of a yacht that sailed from one of the southern California ports. She became becalmed the second day out, and suddenly four or five large whales came alongside and the several hours amused themselves at the expense of the crew, who were a good deal frightened. They rubbed their backs against the bottom of the yacht and blew and spouted so that the drops fell upon the decks. If the yachtsman had thrown over some oil or other disagreeable fluid, they would soon have gotten rid of these companions, which only left them when a breeze sprang up and they got under way.

Fishermen on the Atlantic coast are occasionally troubled with inquisitive whales. One boat or dory was followed for miles, the whale once gently lifting it and rising beneath it, terrorizing the fisherman, who pulled for the shore as fast as he could, the whale following until the water began to shoal.

Why whales should follow vessels might seem a mystery, but the solution is that in all probability they consider the vessel a companion, another whale of some kind. This was well illustrated on the California coast by a whale which evidently took the ship Plymouth for one of its kind. This whale was a sulphur bottom, about 90 feet in length, and it joined the ship off the Golden Gate as it left San Francisco and remained by it through the entire voyage to Realajo, South America. The big fish soon became a nuisance. It swam alongside in such close proximity that its breath discolored the paint of the ship. Then it would rise gently beneath the keel, which would swim along directly in front and keep the crew in constant fear of a collision that might under certain circumstances dismast the ship. The men tried almost every device they could think of to drive the whale away. They shot at it with rifles and pistols, struck it with pieces of wood and bombarded it with bottles and hot coals as it came up, but all to no purpose. It went on "keeping company" until the ship finally entered some shoal water that it was obliged to sheer off.

The sociability of dolphins and porpoises is well known, their graceful gambols about the prow of vessels being a very common sight. No matter how rapid the pace, these attractive creatures so time their motions that they pass and repass the flying cutwater with the greatest ease.

The close proximity of such large animals to vessels might suggest a possible danger, yet fatalities are rare and few are known where the whale has not been attacked. The terrible incident of the Essex is perhaps the only one. Here the whale was run down by the ship, the shock from the contact being so severe as to throw the crew to the deck and almost dismast the vessel. The whale swam off and a few moments later the lookout cried out that it was coming for them on the surface. The animal was inspired by revenge, and at full speed struck the ship in the bow so powerful a blow that the bow was crushed in, and the vessel went to the bottom ten minutes later, leaving the men in boats 700 miles from the coast of South America. A survivor of the accident still lives in the little town of Santa Monica, Cal.—Cor. New York Post.

WOMEN VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

For the first time in the history of this country an opportunity for women to publicly express their choice for president is offered. The method is unique and will result in showing on Nov. 4th just what effect woman's vote will have on national affairs.

A manufacturer who has business relations with most of the prominent newspapers in the United States, proposes the plan as follows:

All women over 18 are entitled to one vote. The votes by states will be shown in the papers on every Wednesday and Saturday until Nov. 4th. Women are requested to read more than one side of the question and act upon their own judgment. Write the name of candidate on a postal card and your own name and address clearly, also city and state. On the lower left hand corner give the name of a banker or grocer who knows you.

This proposition is to prevent flooding the mail with fictitious votes. Names unknown to grocer or banker will be thrown out. Be careful to write clearly and an acknowledgment of the receipt of each vote will be sent to the fair voter. Send the postal to Postum Cereal Food Coffee Co., Battle Creek, Mich. It is used by every earnest woman will not hesitate to expend a penny to register her preference at this most interesting period of National history.

This company have a national reputation and pledge their integrity and honor to report the vote exactly as received, without fear or favor. A statement of the final vote polled up to 7 p. m. Nov. 4th will be published Nov. 7th and the vote as it progresses will be shown on every Wednesday and Saturday between now and then.

HE BUILT A FENCE.

And Ordered the St. Joseph Valley Railroad Builders to Get OFF His Land.

OX CREEK LAND IS EXPENSIVE.

Charles B'Jork, a Swede, Wants $1,000 for a Few Feet of Ox Creek.

Charles B'Jork, a Swede living on Second street, has decided that the St. Joseph Valley railroad company ought to pay him $1,000 for a few feet of Ox creek. The appraisers thought that $50 was a big figure for the land and the railroad men thought the same.

The land in dispute comprises one-half of Ox creek for a distance of less than 100 feet, just north of Territorial street. When it was learned that no mutual agreement in the matter could be reached Mr. B'Jork proceeded to protect himself as he thought best. First, he strung a log chain across his covered property and it is reported, though Mrs. B'Jork told THE NEWS it was not so, that the owner guarded this coveted spot of earth with a shot gun.

This morning when the railroad builders began work they found this little patch of ground nicely fenced in. Mr. B'Jork was on hand and warned the workmen that any man who trespassed on his property would be promptly arrested. None of the men asked for justice court yesterday and they kept their distance from the forbidden swampy spot of ground.

The owner of the land went to St. Joseph this afternoon for the purpose of securing an injunction to restrain the company from building across his land. If the real estate owner persists in the course he has taken his land will be condemned.

Mr. B'Jork should get off the track before the train comes.

The St. Joseph Valley has had more than its share of encounters with land owners. The trouble at Buchanan is still fresh in the minds of the people. Whoever was at fault in Buchanan the sympathy of the people should be with the railroad company in the Benton Harbor trouble.

IMPRISONED ON A ROOF.

The Experience of Mr. Coats at the Bryan Meeting.

A good joke is told on A. Coats in connection with the Bryan meeting. Mr. Coats was among the applauding crowd who saw the presidential candidate from the top of the Bell block. He was so enthused over the remarks of the orator that he forgot to follow the crowd down off the roof. The skylight was closed down and Mr. Coats was made a prisoner. He began to yell but everybody on the street was so filled with political enthusiasm that no one heard the cries of the prisoner.

Frank F. Pratt, a contractor but not a politician, came that way and heard the cries for help. He looked toward heaven and saw the aged gentleman on the third story roof.

"What are you doing there?" asked Pratt.

"I'm a prisoner, let me down," asked the voice of Mr. Coats quite pitifully.

"Who are you going to vote for?" yelled Pratt.

"That makes no difference. I want to come down."

"But it makes lots of difference to me," replied Pratt.

"For Bryan," subsively yelled the man on the roof.

"Well, after the polls are closed November 3, I'll help you down," kindly assured Mr. Pratt. It was a joke which caused a large number of people and after the fun was all squeezed out the occurrence Mr. Coats was liberated from his prison.

A PRINTER AND EDITOR.

His Body Laid at the West Michigan Depot Today.

The body of S. E. Rogers, who died at the poor house yesterday, laid at the West Michigan depot all day unattended by any mourner or friend.

Mr. Rogers was a printer and an editor. At one time while he was doing editorial work in Jackson he had a state reputation, but drink got the better of him and he ended his days on the Benton county poor farm. The last word that Mr. Rogers ever did was writing the article which recently appeared in THE EVENING NEWS and St. Joseph Journal in regard to the water works on the poor farm.

The body was brought here early this morning but because it was accompanied by no certificate of removal from the health officer it could not be sent to Grand Rapids, its destination, on the morning train. It is a pity ladies without the proper certificate is an offense punishable by a heavy fine.

On the rough paper was the following notice which did not meet the requirements of the law: "This is to certify that S. E. Rogers died from cancer in the neck. W. F. Ballard, M. D., attending physician."

The proper papers will probably be received in time to ship.

A GOOD MEETING.

First Ward Republicans Heard Speeches Last Night.

The Second Baptist church was well filled with residents of the first ward last night to hear the issues of the day discussed by local republican speakers.

The meeting was called to order by Alderman Samuel Brown who spoke for thirty minutes in an intelligent manner on the money question. He was followed by George M. Valentine, Charles N. Sears and a colored orator named Campbell who gave the people a clear and logical address.

Similar meetings will be held before election day draws and a great many republican votes are expected as a result.

BROKE UP IN A ROW.

Revolver Pulled at a Republican Meeting at Newwaygo.

NEWAYGO, Oct. 21.—Acting in accordance with President Cleveland's ideas of civil service reform Andrew Pyke, surveyor of customs at Grand Rapids, came out here last evening to address a republican meeting. He was chastened and disappointed at the size of the audience and lack of enthusiasm and before the meeting was called to order attempted to relieve his feelings by "cussing down" J. Beresford Sears, editor of the Newwaygo Herald, for having failed to get out a crowd, charging the failure to lack of advertising. Sears did not take kindly to the federal official's criticism and when ex-Secretary of State Dan E. Soper joined in the "cuss" Sears flew into a rage, pulled his revolver and tried to shoot Soper. Bystanders grabbed him just in time to save Soper and sent the bullet into the floor. Sears was arrested by Marshal Larson and Special Policeman McKinley, taken to jail and locked up. He will be prosecuted.

Says Pope Leo Is Not Angry.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—Archbishop Ireland today authorized the following statement concerning the published dispatches, under a Rome date, stating that the pope was vexed with the archbishop for the position he had taken on the political situation:

"There is no truth whatever in the statement. What the purposes are of those who make this and similar statements I do not know. As to my letter published a week ago on the political situation, it remains, so far as I am concerned, in full force. Developments of political matters so far as observed by me, confirm me in all the statements then made and lead me to renew them. Godfrey with yet stronger emphasis."

HOW IT WORKS.

Eau Claire Silver Men Are Studying the Boycott.

EAU CLAIRE, Oct. 21.—Conservative republicans and the majority of the republicans here are conservative, do not like the resolutions of boycott passed by the "republican club" which ordered a boycott on THE EVENING NEWS, and THE NEWS is now in better favor with the people than ever.

J. M. Paul, the secretary of the "republican club" who drew up the boycott resolutions, is in business here and has been enjoying the support of the numerous silver farmers in the vicinity.

Several of the leaders in the silver movement are treating Mr. Paul to the same dose of boycott that Mr. Paul tried to prepare for THE NEWS. Democrats and republicans here are perfectly satisfied with the impartial course of THE NEWS. Both sides of the question is what the people want and that is what THE NEWS has been giving.

Alexander Fabbrì, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man, and the ushers were George Vanderbilt, William Sloane, Augustus D. Shepard and W. B. Osgood.

The bride's gift from her mother was $1,000,000.

GEN. HARRISON'S TOUR.

He Is Making Indiana Towns by Special Train.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 21.—General Harrison arrived at this place last evening, after having made ten speeches during the day. At Vincennes referring to Mr. Bryan's declaration that we can have bimetalism with free coinage, he said:

"I say we cannot. This government is a great and strong government but it cannot fix the value of everything. If you want to know what anything is worth you must go to the market and find out. The statutes may declare that a bushel of oats is the same as a bushel of wheat, but that does not make it so. We must stamp out with the votes of a million of our people in Indiana and the adjoining states this heresy that is pressed upon us now. What we want is to return to the conditions of things we had when we had a revenue bill that paid the expenses of the government and did not put us to the necessity of selling bonds to pay for them. We shall find prosperity just where we lost it. If you wish to find anything you have lost you must go to the place where you lost it. You lost prosperity when you inaugurated this democratic policy and you must go back there again and take my word for it, you will find what you have lost."

A Brief but Clear Description of How They Are Manufactured.

The thimble is a Dutch invention, and the first one was made in 1684 by a silversmith named Nicholas Van Benschoten. Originally it was called "thun-bell," because it was worn on the thumb.

In making thimbles the gold and silver ingots are rolled out into sheets of the desired thickness and cut by a stamp into circular pieces of any required size. These circular pieces are bent into thimble shape by means of a solid metal bar that is of the same size as the inside of the intended thimble. This bar is moved by machinery up and down in a bottomless mold of the outside of the same thimble, and each time the bar descends it presses one of the circular pieces or disks into thimble shape.

When the thimble is shaped, the next work is to brighten, polish and decorate it. First, the blank thimble is fitted with a rapidly revolving rod. A slight touch of a sharp chisel cuts a very thin shaving from the end of the thimble, a second chisel does the same on the side, and a third neatly rounds off the rim. A round steel rod, well oiled, is held against the surface of the revolving thimble, and it is thus given a nice polish. The inside is brightened and polished in a similar manner, the thimble being held in a revolving mold.

Then a delicate, revolving steel wheel with a raised, ornamental edge is pressed against the blank thimble and prints the ornamental scroll just outside the rim. Another steel wheel covered with sharp points makes tiny indentations all over the remaining blank surface of the thimble.

The last operation is to wash it thoroughly in soapuds, to brush it carefully, and it is ready for any lady's workbasket.—Philadelphia Times.

A PRETTY BUILDING.

The New Yore Block Which Is Now In the Course of Construction.

WILL BE FINISHED BY JAN. 1.

Contractor George Mills Has Eighteen Men at Work on the New Structure.

Patrick Yore, the enterprising builder of Yore's Grand opera house which was recently destroyed by fire, is again showing his enterprise by the erection of a three story brick building on the site of the old opera house. The new building will be one of the handsomest structures in town and the fact that George Mills has the contract is proof positive that it will be substantial and in every way strong and safe.

The building will be three stories high with a basement underneath the whole which will be divided into rooms and rented for anything suitable. The first, or ground floor will contain five large stores, two stores 25x100 on Territorial street, one store 25x50 on the corner of Territorial and Sixth streets with an ornamental corner entrance, and two stores 25x25 each on Sixth street. On the northeast and northwest corners of the building will be octagonal bay windows mounted with slate and in the center of the block will be a large circular bay window.

The second story will be divided into nine apartments or flats of six rooms each with every modern convenience. The third floor will probably be fitted up for the head offices of the Order of Physicians which was recently organized here and which is rapidly growing.

Mr. Mills, the contractor, now has eighteen men at work on the building and will increase the force just as soon as the Zealand white brick arrives, which material goes into the front of the building. Mr. Mills expects to have the roof on in less than five weeks.

Don't Tell the Story of a Comblie.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 21.—The attention of James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railway, was called to a sensational story printed in a New York paper this morning, to the effect that he, Charles A. Pillsbury and other men of wealth had entered into a gigantic combination to corner wheat.

Mr. Hill characterized the story as wholly absurd.

He said reports from the various stations along the Great Northern road indicated that there was far less wheat in the elevators than at any time for the last three years, and that he had no doubt that the grain was moving to market with unusual speed, owing to the great rise in the price of wheat since last Friday. Grain was even moving in large quantities from as far west as Idaho and Washington, some of it going directly to Portland, thence to be shipped to India. Mr. Hill rejects the idea that there is any politics in the rise in the price of wheat.

Both Mr. Washburn and Mr. Pillsbury this evening denied that they had any interest whatever in a wheat corner.

TO Eau Claire democrats: Do not take revenge on Secretary Paul. His little "boy-cout" has been a good advertisement for THE EVENING NEWS.

WHEN Mayor Bell appointed Dr. H. V. Tutton health officer he made no mistake. Surrounded on every side as the city is by contagious diseases all forms of contagion have been driven from the city. The position of health officer is the most important of all in no city.

MANAGER Hanna, in a fit of generosity, said that Bryan would probably get 61 electoral votes. Manager Jones took a look at his hand and "ruined" the republican manager by declaring that McKinley would get 31 votes. Both of these genial gentlemen are correct.

WHEN free silver wins, if it ever does, it will be hard on the boards of education who furnish text books for the scholars. The old arithmetics will be thrown away and new ones will be substituted which, according to the republican argument, will declare: "Ten mille make one cent, ten cents one dime, five dimes one dollar."

A Newspaper Curiosity.

Thomas Smith, Jr., who keeps a secondhand furniture store at 220 Center street, has in his possession an old newspaper which is a real curiosity. It is 120 years old and contains the first one ever printed in a newspaper. He bought it at the receiver's sale of the estate of Joseph Low Mason, who was once a police commissioner. The curiosity is inclosed in an unassuming frame and covered by glass on both sides, so as to permit its being read without handling. The heading is: "Boston Gazette and Country Journal, Monday, March 13, 1776."

Of the two leading articles one treats of the Boston riots, and the other is an appeal to all patriotic citizens to withhold from purchasing goods of English manufacture. The former is illustrated with five radially drawn coffins, which are supposed to contain the bodies of the first five heroes of American independence.

The paper is extremely valuable as a relic, and it is said that the heirs of Mr. Mason have offered to buy it for a large sum, but Smith refuses to part with it.—New York Tribune.

To Clean Stained Boots.

Ink stains may be removed from a book by applying with a camel's hair pencil a small quantity of oxalic acid diluted with water and then using blotting paper. Two applications will remove all traces of the ink. To remove grease spots, lay powdered pipe clay each side of the spot and press with an iron as hot as the paper will bear without scorching. Sometimes grease spots may be removed from paper or cloth by laying a piece of blotting paper on them and then pressing the blotting paper with a hot iron. The heat melts the grease and the blotting paper absorbs it.—Writer.

To make the hair grow a natural color, prevent baldness, and keep the scalp healthy, Hall's Hair Renewer was invented, and has proved itself successful.

BRYAN AND SEWALL.

WHAT IS HE?

You Could Not Call This Man an Anarchist—Anarchism Is Better.

Here is a prominent goldbug advocate of Chicago who, over his own name, practically urges the assassination of Mr. Bryan in case he is elected. Listen to him:

"Two grand presidents of this republic have been assassinated by cranks, for fancied grievances only. If Bryan shall be elected and the country be thrown into dire panic and distress, which will surely follow, throwing some millions more of our honest people out of work and intensifying the privations already festering among the unemployed, will not the disappointed and distressed of the unthinking masses who will vote for him, and for you, engendered by faith in Popocratic promises so soon broken, create such a revolution that he will never be inaugurated? Will the bitten not bite?—D. K. Tenney in the Chicago Record.

Mr. Tenney is a corporation lawyer. If Mr. Bryan is assassinated it will be well to watch Mr. Tenney.

The complacent insolence of the gold gamblers of New York city was never better shown than when they selected Perry Belmont as chairman of the Bourke Cockran "honest money" meeting at Madison Square garden. Belmont was one of the leading beneficiaries of the bond swindle. A fine man to appeal for "honest money" here are the headlines from the New York World of Feb. 21, 1895, at which time that paper was fighting the gold ring instead of defending it.

Our marvelous inventions have been monopolized so that, in spite of the daily miracles of our machinery, the hungry still lack food and the homeless wander through the streets. Step by step the moneyless man is losing his right to exist. Every recent change in legislation has been made to protect property and to disfranchise men. Armories are crested and schoolhouses forgotten. Immense grants of land are bestowed upon railroads, but the settlers upon those grants are evicted. Trades union leaders are imprisoned for having contempt for a contemptible judge, while monopolists are aided by injunctions and federal troops. Today Shakespeare has been revised and Shylock is the hero of the play. Porthia's plea for mercy is called revolutionary and Bassanio is branded as a repudiator.—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.

America is the workingman's "Paradise Lost," and it can never be regained by passive obedience to the serpent. Our capitalists build magnificent mansions and live in royal temptations. They can command electric lights and use kerosene at home; they manufacture pianos and do not own a tin whistle; they build carriages and go afoot. Our miners dig gold and die poor; they delve in dangerous coal mines and lack fuel in the winter. Our farmers raise grain and want for food, export cotton and wool and lack clothing, sell cattle and are without meat.—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.

It is better that we should, if necessary, buy gold at a premium to settle our foreign balances with than that the American people should be compelled to pay higher prices in human labor and human endeavor for a dollar because of the adoption of the single gold standard. If the United States opens the ports to the manufactured products of cheap labor abroad and submits to the dictation of the gold men of Europe, and pay the laborers, master and producers of America.—Senator John M. Thurston, July, 1893, before the Union Pacific whippers him into line for gold.

Go to your bank and see if you can get a check cashed in gold. Ask any merchant in town to exchange silver, greenbacks, bank notes, or any other form of money for gold. Obtain a $10 gold piece from any source you can.

This is what is known as the gold standard. What do you suppose will happen when our silver money and greenbacks are retired, as they will be, if Mr. McKinley is elected?

Free silver would raise the prices of the farmer's products and make it impossible for anybody to buy them.—Chicago Tribune, Aug. 25, 1896.

Those who know that national prosperity depends on the prosperity of the farmer are willing to take a chance with wheat at $1 a bushel.

We have opposed to us every man who has attempted to destroy labor organization; we have with us those who have aided labor to better its condition.—W. J. Bryan.

When did the millionaires and money changers of New York become the champions of labor and higher wages.—Chattanooga News.

More competition for the producer, less for the broker, is the cry of the campaign.—Denver Times.

Liberty and plutocracy are incompatible. If the few may control the means of livelihood of the many there can be no liberty. It is only necessary to look about us today and note the devices adopted for coercion of the people into support of Mark Hanna and his puppet to estimate how slender a shred of liberty the encroachments of plutocracy have left to the people. "Vote for Hanna," cry some to their employees, "or see wages cut and your positions forfeited." "Vote for, our ticket," cry others, "or expect such a calling in of loans by our banks and trust companies that you will be ruined and your property put under the hammer." "Vote for us," cry others, "or we will build you no more elevated railroads, we will charge you more to carry your wheat and cotton to market, we will repudiate your insurance policies, we will even deny you a livelihood. Vote for our man or we brand you as anarchist and communist, and declare you should be shot down."—New York Journal.

A financial system that commands itself to the wealthy only is a curse to the land.—W. J. Bryan.

Bryan is caricatured, just as Lincoln was, as a highwayman, as a pirate, even as the devil, and in many similar ways. Whether Bryan's political views are entirely correct or not, who can deny that he is a citizen of whom any nation in the world might boast?

Whether we consider the sustained ability of his addresses, his gentlemanly endurance of slander and misrepresentation, his unsullied public career, or the magnanimity of his unforced cordiality to the swart-stained masses that greet him at every depot, we can not avoid admiring him as a sturdy specimen of our American manhood.

Compare him with the haggard individual, who trembles in his mortgaged house lest Hanna may foreclose. Compare him with that unfortunate Napoleon who has already met his convictions, and it is plain to see which best represents the principle of the Declaration of Independence.—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.

"Gold Yelpers."

If the government has been paying gold interest, it had that right by original agreement, and it may hereafter pay silver interest by the same right. The option is in the government, and it has never been surrendered and never will be. How often must this be repeated before the goldites will consent to accept the fact? We have had enough Shylock talk about "public credit," "good faith," "honor," "understandings," "expectations," and "suppositions." The current way to kill "public credit, good faith and honor" is to smash down the price of property, paralyze business, pauperize labor, bankrupt enterprise, and drive the people into poverty and despair; and that is precisely the role the gold yelpers are playing.—Chicago Tribune, Jan. 16, 1878.

Wendell Phillips View.
 I believe in the people, in universal enfranchisement, as fitted to secure the fitted results human nature leaves possible. If corruption seems ruling over us like a flood, it is the corruption of the lumbering classes; it is not the masses who steal, but the railroads; it is the defectors who live in palaces and make away with millions; it is money kings who buy up congresses; it is the demagogues and editors in purple and blue who bid $50,000 for the presidency itself.—Wendell Phillips.

It is Different Now.
 When tariff was the main issue no name was too bad for England, no name too good for Ireland.

Now things are different. It will not do to say anything against England. On the contrary, she is a most progressive nation, blessed with noble, generous and able statesmen. The republican party loves her, even if the love is not returned. Each worships a common object—gold.

The real anarchist is he who seeks to violate the laws of nature for the exclusive benefit of a small fraction of the community.

During the present campaign the epithet "Anarchist" has been hurled at the heads of some of the noblest and most capable men that this generation has produced. The fierce searchlight of publicity has blazed upon these men for years, and not a single corrupt official act has ever been discovered.—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.

This law-breaking, aggressive spirit of monopoly has found a perfect embodiment in the person of Mark Hanna. He today towers above McKinley and above the Republican party, the American blackboard who plays his workers instead of his wive.

The skeletons of the Seamen's union, the Miners' union and the Street Car Men's union hung bleeding in closets!—Rev. Herbert U. Casson of Lynn, Mass.

What is the use of opening the mills unless you first wake the people able to buy what the mills produce?—W. J. Bryan.

The Public Ledger (gold standard paper of Philadelphia), in its leading editorial of July 14, 1896, page 8, column 1, said: "It is obvious that with this privilege (free coinage) extended to silver our correspondent could not go into the market and buy 42 1/2 grains for much less than $1."

Are you aware of the fact that the United States treasury will not exchange gold for silver?

Are you aware of the fact that the continuance of the gold standard means the speedy debasement and extinction of value of every silver dollar now in circulation?

"This is not a Republican convention. This is a convention of corporation lawyers. This is a convention of bank presidents. This is a pawn brokers' convention."—Senator Dubois to the St. Louis Republican convention.

Under the reign of silver at 16 to 1 a farm or a house and lot now worth $10,000 will be worth $20,000, a bushel of wheat now selling for 50 cents will sell for $1.—Chicago Tribune argument against free silver.

"Rome Was Not Built in a Day"

Neither was our present business, but months of hard persistent hammering, and a desire to please at any cost has accomplished much.

The best advertisement we have is the continued growth of our business, and our introduction of new things in the market.

For this week we desire to call the ladies' attention to a new style of corset.

The Cresco..

Which cannot break at the waist line. We desire that all the ladies call and examine this, the latest, in corsets.

Also remember we are sole agents for the following makes of Corsets and Corset Waists.

Cresco, W. C. C., R. & G., Flexibone Moulded and the Ferris and Imperial Corset Waists.

Notice.

THE producers of Anthracite Coal seem to have adopted the theory that their product is something you must have and have placed a cold weather price on their commodity in midsummer. We are now receiving our stock of Anthracite from the Wilkesbarre region, the best in the market and selling your orders at current prices. No chrome are given away with this coal, neither do we make any extravagant promises as to the latent energy (heat) which it contains. We simply offer it on a business basis. If, as the big guns in the business assume, hard coal is something you must have regardless of price, we are ready and even anxious to supply you. As the assessment man in the circus would say, "We are here for that purpose."

AGAIN SEEKS SHELTER

The Glenn, of South Haven, Driven Into Port Here.

The steamer Glenn, of South Haven, again entered this port this morning to get in shelter from the heavy sea. The Glenn ran in here Monday night on her way to Chicago on account of the prospects of rough weather, and departed yesterday morning. The wind arose during the night and whipped the lake into a rather frolicsome state, and the Glenn on her return trip from Chicago again deemed it prudent to enter here and remain until an abatement in the storm made it safe to continue the voyage.

The City of Milwaukee arrived in port this morning, finishing her season's work for the Graham & Morton transportation company. She has carried in the aggregate an immense quantity of freight, this season being the most successful in the history of the vessel. She will be delivered to her owners at once.

The City of Louisville will continue on the Chicago-St. Joseph route, making tri-weekly trips, leaving St. Joseph Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 10 o'clock p. m. It is promised that she will run on this schedule during the entire winter.

The steamer Frank Woods will continue on the Milwaukee route.

LOG CABIN CLUB.

Met Last Evening at Mrs. Dickinson's.

The Log Cabin club held a very pleasant meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. L. W. Dickinson on Niles avenue. The usual routine of entertainment was carried out after which refreshments were served. The hostess is a charming entertainer. The Log Cabin club is one of the most popular social clubs in the city and its membership list includes a large number of our most polished society people.

MR. GARDNER'S LECTURE.

Preparations Being Made by the Children's Home Board.

The ladies of the children's home board will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Nix, on Front street, to prepare for the appearance of Hon. Washington Gardner in this city November 13. The meeting will be called to order at 2:30 o'clock sharp, and all members are requested to be present at that hour. The members of the Benton Harbor board will also be present.

CITY COUNCIL.

Held a Short Session at the City Hall Last Night.

The city council held a brief session at the city hall last night.

The liquor bond of Riley & McClurg, with George Herman and Frank Morelock as sureties, was accepted.

The clerk of the water board was allowed a salary of $20 monthly upon the recommendation of the board of public works.

William F. Freitag and William Erick were appointed election inspectors and John Duncan, J. J. Merchant and Dr. Stratton were appointed election commissioners.

A TROUBLESOME GOAT.

Creates A Disturbance in the Forbes Block.

An inoffensive looking goat stood tied in front of the Forbes block on State street this morning. He stood there until he grew restless and a spirit of adventure took possession of his soul. So he broke the rope that tied him to the hitching post and walked deliberately up stairs and into the dressmaking parlors of Miss Annie Olson, where he spread terror and confusion. Then he went into Jim O'Hara's law office and talked politics for a while, after which he strolled into Dr. Wilson's office and butted the furniture all over the room. The tenants finally all got together and forced their unwelcome visitor down stairs.

YOUR FAVORITE.

You Will Have A Chance to Name Him Tonight.

Tonight, in the building opposite the post office, the Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church will give a campaign supper. A supper ticket will cost 20 cents and with it will be given a ticket with the name of a presidential candidate which the holder will deposit in the ballot box. There will be three tickets, McKinley, Bryan and Palmer and the voter is given his choice.

An elaborate menu will be served. The proceeds of the supper will be used to place electric lights in the church.

A PLEASANT EVENT.

Was the Y. M. C. L. Benefit Last Evening.

The Y. M. C. L. benefit at the Congregational church last night was well attended and was a very enjoyable affair. The program was a varied one and embraced some of the best talent in the city.

The program was presented as follows: Invocation, Rev. Thos. McRoberts; organ voluntary, Miss Winchestr; song, Miss Helen Webb, Chicago; recitation, Miss Ella Edson; vocal, Miss A. A. Canavan; duet, by Jane Bradford and Florence Brown; reading, Miss Maude Branton; selection, Y. M. C. A. Quartette; recitation, Miss Stella Davis; vocal solo, Mrs. Louis Schurz; reading, Miss Edson; solo, William B. Church; remarks, Dr. Schwendener.

A RECEPTION.

Will Be Tendered Rev. James Hamilton This Evening.

The Ladies Aid society and the Epworth League, of the Methodist church, will give an informal reception to Rev. James Hamilton, the new pastor, in the parlors of the church this evening. All are most cordially invited to attend and meet the new pastor and his family.

The reception will not in any way interfere with the supper arranged for this evening by the ladies of the Congregational church as those who wish to attend the reception may do so after the supper is over.

TURN OUT TOMORROW NIGHT.

There Will Be Another Big Republican Demonstration.

One of the most gifted orators to appear in St. Joseph for the discussion of campaign questions is W. W. Wedemeyer, of Ann Arbor. He will speak in the Academy of Music tomorrow evening in the interests of the gold standard.

Mr. Wedemeyer has spoken in Buchanan and other nearby points during this campaign and those who heard him were delighted with his eloquence and his clear and logical explanation of the financial problem. He is an exceptionally well-paired man and his speech will benefit those who desire information concerning the issue between the two great political organizations.

A big street demonstration will be arranged. The McKinley and Hobart marching club will appear in a torch light parade, and it is planned to leave the torches at the Academy, saving the inconvenience of returning to the club rooms after the parade. Seats will be reserved for the marching club. The seating capacity of the hall will be increased to accommodate an immense audience, and it is hoped that it will not be necessary to turn any away.

AN OPERA.

Will Probably Be Given at the Academy Soon.

Miss Marsh, of the Academy of Music, is thinking seriously of putting an opera on the boards during the holiday week. The opera will be sung by local talent entirely. The piece to be selected will be one of the finest ever produced in the city and the proceeds will go to some church or benevolent organization.

St. Joseph is full of singers who have taken part in successful entertainments in the past. Among the solo singers are Mrs. Kate M. B. Wilson, Miss Cora King, Miss Sadie Martin, Mrs. Louis S. Schulz, R. Gates Rice, William B. Church, William H. Hull, Edward S. Kelley, George F. McIlreath, John W. Fletcher, Mildred B. Rice, Miss Mable Carlton, Miss Bertha Carahan, and others.

Among the chorus singers may be named Edward S. Curran, Frank L. Pivley, Sam Zeind, A. L. Church, Ralph W. Ransom, Thomas J. Gibbons, Nelson C. Rice, Arthur Brown, Theodore Rahn, C. A. Wilkinson, Robert Rahn, Joseph Hauser, Miss Grace Sullivan, Mrs. W. H. Hall, Miss Carrie Brooks, Edith Caldwell, Miss Alice Conant and many others.

Providing the opera is arranged, the talented comedian and singer, Eddie Roy Curran, will sing the comic role. Several productions have been put on here with good results and the above named people have carried them through successfully. The opera to be sung this winter will be of the comic order. Pinafore was sung last winter and made a great hit.

MICHIGAN NEWS.

Brief Dispatches of Important Incidents of a Day.

McBAY, O. 21—O. O. Dunham was assaulted and cruelly beaten Sunday evening by a gang of loafers, to whom he, as a merchant, had refused credit. The gang had attempted to get even by tearing down the fence in front of the Dunham residence on a prominent corner. Mr. Dunham was less one of his eyes as a result of the assault.

Cured His Rheumatism.

MUSKOGEE, Oct. 21—Wesley Shattuck, 32 years of age, was found dead in his bed at 28 Hall street, he having taken a dose of 10 o'clock some time yesterday. He left a note saying he could no longer bear his pains of rheumatism. His wife left him 10 days ago.

Lawyer Mobbed.

HOLLY, Oct. 31—A political outrage that occurred here Saturday night has been the cause of considerable indignation. Lawyer Charles Collier was mobbed by an angry crowd and roughly handled. A sheet of canvas on which in perfect stereoscopic views of a political character has been stretched in front of Mr. Collier's building without his consent. Mr. Collier interfered with the exhibition of the pictures and received in return treatment that compelled him to place himself under the care of a physician.

Piccadilly.

Perhaps there is among the great capitals of civilization no more celebrated, no more beautiful street than Piccadilly. The origin of its name is still disputed, although the interpretation given by the Hon. P. Byng, once universally known as "Poodle" Byng, on account of the curliness of his hair, will serve as well as any other.

He held that, rather more than two centuries ago, it was Charles II's habit, when he took his morning's walk in the Green park, to buy some cakes or turnovers from an old woman with whom he exchanged many a merry jest, and who kept her booth on a spot opposite to the present site of Apsley House. These cakes were called "pickanills," and from this circumstance the fashionable western artery of London was supposed by "Poodle" Byng to have taken its name.

"Poodle" Byng's ashes repose in St. James' church, which Sir Christopher Wren regarded as one of his most successful structures, not far from the grave of that celebrated rone and voluptuary, the last Duke of Queensberry, better known as "Old Q." or the "Star of Piccadilly," whose dishonored bones repose beneath the communion table—London Telegraph.

Preservation of Bouquets.

A florist of many years' experience gives the following recipe for preserving bouquets: When you receive a bouquet, sprinkle it lightly with fresh water; then put it into a vessel containing some soapuds, which nourish the roots and keep the flowers as bright as new. Take the bouquet out of the soapuds morning and lay it sideways in fresh water, the stalk entering first into the water. Keep it there a minute or two; then take the flowers out and sprinkle it lightly by the hand with pure water. Replace the bouquet in the soapuds, and the flowers will bloom as fresh as when first gathered. The soapuds need to be changed every third day. By observing these rules a bouquet can be kept bright and beautiful for at least one month and will last still longer in a very passable state, but the attention to the fair and frail creatures, as directed above, must be strictly observed.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Hot or Cold Water.

In a paper read before a medical association recently a prominent physician says, concerning the use of hot and cold water, that while the majority have concluded that hot water is better for bathing the eyes there are cases where cold is required and that the patient should decide for himself, giving the preference to that which the more quickly relieves the pain and leaves no bad effects. Hot water is generally considered to be far better than cold for bruises. Water which is not too cold drunk in quantities is one of the best means of producing the perspiration necessary for curing a heavy cold. It is said that a bowl of water stood at the side of the bed will often cure troubled sleep as well as insomnia. It is an admirable method of purifying the atmosphere of a room which has become foul with tobacco smoke.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Chinese Cologne.

The Chinese ladies have an old kind of cologne—that is to say, they constantly have upon their person a small bag of sweet smelling gum similar to that which was used by the ancient Egyptian women. Numerous costly jars recently unearthed at Pyramids contain the concoction and perfumes which were used by Egyptian princesses, all of which bear a resemblance to those in vogue today among Chinese ladies of the highest rank.

Abraham Lincoln made a good president, but Harry L. Bird makes the best pharmaceutical preparations. Have your prescriptions filled there.

The Phoenix Hotel.

A great many people go there simply for the reason that they employ nothing but experienced kitchen cooks, and what you eat is clean and reliable. The best of meats, fresh from the market, three times daily. Pastry can't be excelled anywhere in the city. Rates for the winter, 25c per meal or 21 meals for $3.25, while in the lunch room you can procure anything you like in the way of short orders. Oysters a specialty.

Pure

Blood is essential to perfect health. This is a scientific fact. Every organ, nerve and muscle must be fed and nourished. It is the function of the blood to furnish this nourishment, and the quality of nourishment these organs receive depends on the quality of the blood. If the blood is

Rich

Pure and full of vitality it will properly feed and support the whole mechanism of the body. If it is poor and thin disease and suffering will be inevitable. The great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in curing stubborn cases of scrofula, eczema, rheumatism, neuralgia, and every other similar troubles, is based upon its power to enrich and purify the

Blood

This is also the reason for the great popularity of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a building up medicine. By making pure, rich blood, it gives vigor and vitality even in trying seasons, when, owing to impoverished blood, thousands are complaining of weakness and weariness, lack of energy and ambition, and that tired feeling.
